AROUND THE TOWN

The skating and curling rinks are being flooded and it is likely that they will be ready for use in a short time.

C. A. Ryder, who is assisting in installing the electric light system, has been appointed electric inspector for the town.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Liesemer entertained a number of their friends at a very enjoyable card party on Tuesday evening.

The Pioneer contains two extra pages this week, one of which contains the balance of the electric installation bye-law continued from last week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Ballard left for Edmonton on Thursday. They will make their home in that city for the future on account of Mr.
Ballard's business.

Mr. F. S. Krempein received word last week of the death of his father, Mr. Chas. Krempein, of Freeport, Ont., at the advanced age of 92 years. Deceased was ill only a very short time, his son receiving word of his illness and death almost at the same time.

W. Miller, who is employed at J. V. Berscht's store, was taken suddenly ill with appendicitis last week but later reports state that an operation will not be necessary as Mr. Miller is recovering. Milton Trussler, a former employee of J. V. Berscht, is taking Mr. Miller's place in the store in his absence.

The many friends of Mr. Emanuel Brado will learn with sorrow of the death of his wife which occurred on Wednesday last.
Mrs. Brado had been on the sick list for some time but was not taken seriously ill until Tuesday when death took place as stated.
Deceased was buried in the Didsbury cemetery on Friday, services being held at the Evangelical church.

J. A. Tully, representative of the Grand Lodge of the I. O. O.
F. of Alberta, was a visitor in town on Wednesday. Before leaving town Bro. Tully, with the assistance of Bro. Wood of the local lodge, was instrumental in securing several applications for membership in the local lodge and it is expected that one of the best degree teams in the province from Calgary will be here about the end of the month to put on the fine work of the order.

H. E. Bodine, manager of the Knowlton coal mines, which are located 30 miles west of Carstairs, was in town this week.
Mr. Bodine states that they have struck a six foot seam of first quality bituminous coal and a twenty foot seam of soft coal at the mines, and that they have quite a quantity for sale. He also stated that he wished to interview J. E. Stauffer, M. P. P., with a view to having better roads constructed from the mines north; the roads south are in pretty good shape but those coming north are in poor condition because of grading that should be done on the hills, and the people in that locality are badly handicapped.

H. E. OSMOND, EDITOR.

There were a great many complaints made by people who attended the concert in the Opera House on Saturday night because of the unruly conduct of one or two boys during the programme and also because the heating arrangements in the front of the house were very poor. The management should see to it that someone in authority is placed over the young people, as there is nothing more annoying to both performers and the audience than to have such interruptions as occurred on Saturday night. Of course, as far as the heating arrangements is concerned it is a matter that touches the finances of the house considerably in more ways than one, but we heard one gentleman say that that was the last time that he would go there unless different heating arrangements were made.

It is claimed by those who should know that the coal being used for heating the school is not of the right kind. A good soft coal is being used when steam coal is the proper thing for a steam heating plant. This steam coal is also cheaper, consequently would be a saving all round if results were as stated and the school kept at the proper heat.

Has the Town Council passed too stringent a by-law dealing with the installation of electric lights in residences? Of course for the safety of the town too many precautions cannot be taken in this respect as far as putting in wiring, etc., is concerned, but there is some murmuring on account of the many extra charges that are to be made for inspection. Take the issuing of permits for example. Why should a user have to pay for a permit to install the light. Do the Council wish to stop the people from using the light instead of making it as easy as possible and encouraging them to use the same? It looks like it.

The cold snap has stopped operations on the installation of the electric light plant and the consequence is the darkest part of the winter will be over before we have any light. Whose fault is it, the engineer's or the Town Council's? The rate payers passed this by-law over six months ago and expected that it would be ready for full use.
However, they were disappointed and it appears that it will be Christmas time or New Years before it is ready.

Another phase of the electric light question has come up through the delay. Several of the townspeople have signified their intention of not using the lights this winter as they consider that it will be of little use after having their present lighting systems put in shape. Consequently the revenue which might have been derived from the first year's use will be much less than supposed, and this means that the deficit will have to be made up out of the taxes. Of course this was to be expected for the first year but not to the amount that will have to be made up through this delay.

It is up to the ratepayers, however, as this will be a municipally owned plant and they heartily endorsed the by-law, to support the undertaking from the start, as they will have to pay for it one way or another, either by using the lights or through increased taxation. There is not much doubt that if the present and future Councils conduct the undertaking in a business-like way and keep the cost of maintenance down so that the lights will not be too expensive that it will pay for itself and the street lighting will be to the good.

There is little danger from a cold or from an attack of the grip except when followed by pneumonia, and this never happens when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. This remedy has won its great reputation and extensive sale by its remarkable cures of colds and grip and can be relied upon with implicit confidence. For sale by dealers everywhere.

BARKING FOR A LIVING

SOME OF THE LATEST WAYS OF MAKING MONEY.

Selling Time, Acting as a Living Target, Luring Dogs to Bark, Dancing at Academics, Selling Broken Glass—Are a Few of the Trade—How Would You Like to Name Bait for a Livelihood.

There lives at Madamadam a lady who sells the time of a living. She is the second generation of her family who has made this curious privilege, which was granted originally to her father by the town council, a specialty in the year long ago.

She has about fifty customers in the city, and many more in the country. She is a lady of some means, and her time is sold at a high price. She is a lady of some means, and her time is sold at a high price. She is a lady of some means, and her time is sold at a high price.

It is an old saying that had the world done it, it would have been a long time ago. It is an old saying that had the world done it, it would have been a long time ago.

The chief way in which she makes her money is by selling her time. She is a lady of some means, and her time is sold at a high price. She is a lady of some means, and her time is sold at a high price.

She is a lady of some means, and her time is sold at a high price. She is a lady of some means, and her time is sold at a high price. She is a lady of some means, and her time is sold at a high price.

Speaking of the time of a living, it is a very curious thing. It is a very curious thing. It is a very curious thing. It is a very curious thing.

A Londoner in a case recently before the courts received a verdict of a man who called himself "Kilgore." It is a very curious thing. It is a very curious thing. It is a very curious thing.

An advertisement in a London newspaper comes from a woman who may be known as a "professional hanger-on." She is a lady of some means, and her time is sold at a high price. She is a lady of some means, and her time is sold at a high price.

To be a radium errand-girl is the ambition of certain young French women. It is a very curious thing. It is a very curious thing. It is a very curious thing.

An Essex man makes a living by placing memoranda in the streets. It is a very curious thing. It is a very curious thing. It is a very curious thing.

At the streets we see many odd methods of getting a few pence. It is a very curious thing. It is a very curious thing. It is a very curious thing.

Attending his hands till the palms were quite right, the street boy smartly together, the contact evoked a hole-finger one that made by striking a metal bar with a leather hammer. He knew all the species, but usually confined himself to simple ones, such as "Horn, sweet home" and "God save the king."

An Irish Giant. The Irish giant Patrick O'Brien, who lived from 1761 to 1828, was eight feet seven inches high, and for many years exhibited himself in London and at fairs at Southfield. His head from the commencement of the pain to the extremity of the middle finger measured twelve inches, and the shoe was seventeen inches long.

THE BOYS' LAST GUESS.

It Would Be a Miracle to Explain a Miracle.

On the days when school-boys were young a visit was paid to one of those schools by a local ditty who had theories on the subject of Scripture lessons. He requested the headmaster to pick out a particularly dull boy and let him ask that had a few questions. Whereupon the following dialogue ensued:

"Now, George Jones, what do you understand by a miracle?"

Boy, looking helplessly at visitor, makes no answer.

Visitor indignantly, to headmaster:—You see, it's as I've always maintained. Scripture must be explained and illustrated if any comprehension of its meaning is to penetrate the sort of skull. He can't tell me what a miracle is. Now hear me make him understand.

Headmaster with sarcastic incredulity:—If you do, sir, you'll have wrought a miracle yourself. I haven't a duller boy in the school. If you question some of its meaning is to penetrate the sort of skull. He can't tell me what a miracle is. Now hear me make him understand.

Visitor:—No, no, I'll show you what I can do with this one by using common sense methods. Now, my boy, pay attention to me. You don't know what a miracle is, do you?"

Boy confesses it by his silence.

"Now listen to me. Suppose you got up in the middle of the night and saw the sun shining, what would you say it was?"

Boy (promptly):—I should say it was the moon.

Visitor (arguingly):—But you couldn't know, if you saw it was the sun.

Boy (doggedly):—I should see it was the sun.

Visitor (reverting from a disconcerting pause):—But if some one told you that it was the sun?

Boy (emphatically):—I should say he was a liar.

Visitor (angry at such persistent stupidity):—But suppose I told you that it was really the sun. You wouldn't dare to tell me that I was a liar, would you?"

Boy (hesitates a moment, then, in accents of conviction):—I should say you were wrong:—It's the moon.

His Text. The three-year-old son of a Methodist minister was with his mother at a gathering of ladies. At the proper time he was given a cookie. He ate it in short order and asked for another. The mother said:

"I'll give you another if you will sing for me."

"Can't sing," was his reply, "but I know something I can say."

"That will do all right," the lady answered, expecting to hear "Twinkle, twinkle, little star," or some other nursery classic.

But the little fellow drew himself up in real Sunday school fashion and said his piece:

"God loves a cheerful giver."

The lady gave him the cookie, and the whole company seemed to be very cheerful at this—Harper's Magazine.

Exactly Suitable to His Needs. Mr. Payson and Mr. Dehnbent met on the street.

"I see you're moved again, Dehnbent," was Payson's greeting. "Where are you living now?"

"Over in the next street," rejoined Dehnbent. "I made the change because my new house has a high board fence in front with a sign on it that exactly suits me as a warning to all my creditors not to mail me any more bills."

"What's the sign say?"

"Just No Bills,"—Judge.

Tossed. The little fellow drew himself up in real Sunday school fashion and said his piece:

Said this author poet: "Is it proper, Since that other shouted to 'stop here!' Without meaning to stop."

A Threat. Will they miss me when I'm gone When the day comes? Will they miss me when I'm gone When the day comes? Will they miss me when I'm gone When the day comes?

What He Said. Proprietor of Military Shop—Why didn't that lady say anything? New Assistant—Because we hadn't what she wanted. Proprietor—You'll kindly remember in future, ladies, that you're here to sell what I keep and not what people want!

Paper Cookery. "Paper cookery" is being popularized in London by a civilian chef, according to a London newspaper. The chef, who is a Frenchman, has been serving the simple process of cooking the food in a paper bag of a special kind. The bag is put inside a gas stove, and the food is cooked by the air which comes into contact with the paper wrapper. For instance, in cooking a beefsteak in this manner, the paper bag is put inside a gas stove, and the food is cooked by the air which comes into contact with the paper wrapper.

Reeking a waterproofing solution for military cloaks as well as tents, French army officials have decided that soldiers should wear a waterproof rubber, boiled, lined with oil, insulating material, and of any other of the many materials to be had. BEWARE OF BLOOD-POISON. Zam-Buk is a Sure Cure. Mr. Jas. Davey, of 76 Ellice Avenue, Winnipeg, says: "A few months since I was cured of a poisonous ringworm by the timely use of Zam-Buk."

"I cut a deep gash across the knuckle on the first finger of my right hand in opening a lobster can. I suffered at the time with the soreness and pain, but had no idea it would become so serious a wound. However, in about two days I was greatly relieved, and the finger was much discolored, showing signs of blood-poisoning. The pain was dreadful and I was forced to leave off my work and go home."

"The wound on the knuckle had been caused by dust and dirt getting into it. I then decided to try the Zam-Buk treatment, and having first washed the wound with soap and water, I applied the ointment. It settled the pain almost instantly, and by next day there was a great improvement. In a few days, a complete cure was brought about."

Zam-Buk is just as good for eczema, ulcers, scalds, sores, abscesses, ringworm, boils, varicose ulcers, running sores, cold sores, chapped hands, etc. It draws all poisonous humors from the wound or sore and then heals it. Use it too, for cuts, burns, bruises and all skin troubles. Zam-Buk Soap should be used in conjunction with the ointment for washing wounds and sore places. Excellent too, for baby's skin.

All druggists and stores sell Zam-Buk at 50c. box. Zam-Buk Soap at 25c. box. Put Zam-Buk in your list of prices from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

THE PREMIER'S WIFE.

Mrs. R. L. Borden is Beloved For Her Personal Qualities.

The voice of Canada has spoken. At its bidding another figure steps forward to the helm of state, and with the coming into power of the new First Minister comes into prominence one who will play a part in the social life of the Dominion—that gracious and stately gentleman, his wife.

Mrs. Robert Laird Borden is already well known, as like Lady Laurier, she has made it a point whenever possible to travel about with her husband on his political tours, and ever for her tact and charming personality have won many friends, not only for herself, but for her husband and his party. For she has always taken the keenest interest in his work, his life, his work she has made her own, and she has been his highest aim, and to his success she has contributed in no small degree. One may well be sure that no brusque speech, no ungracious remark, no point where party difficulties in the party's way, or alienated from her husband any wavering support. She has been a helpmeet in the truest sense, and in many ways. For instance, she has the faculty seldom forgetting a place. Now, as often happens with men who are burdened by the cares of a nation, the new Prime Minister is a little absent-minded, and when greeting strangers Mrs. Borden will turn to her husband with "Oh, Rob! this is Mr. So-and-so; you remember we met him at such a place."

Then, too, she has made their beautiful home in the Capital City a rallying spot for Mr. Borden's followers, where they might feel perfectly welcome, where a kind and cordial welcome was assured to stranger and old alike, and where no opportunity was given for townships and "seasonal visitors" alike to become bored.

As a hostess she is tactful, bright, and sympathetic, and she has that artistic sense which enables her to harmonize the varied elements of an intricate social world. Indeed, if Mr. Borden is to be successful in blending the inharmonious elements of his hitherto unruly party, Canada will owe much to the assistance of him, for a time, in control of her destinies.

Taxation for Hail Insurance

J. E. Stauffer, M. P. P., of Didsbury, has a plan to solve the hail insurance problem. He would adopt the principle of taxation of land values.

Mr. Stauffer outlined his scheme to an Edmonton paper. He has outlined his scheme to the government.

"Provincial taxation for hail insurance, is I believe, the only satisfactory plan," said Mr. Stauffer. "And I am of the opinion that a valuation rather than an acreage basis should be adopted. It is a simple matter. All wild land would be assessed on the same basis as cultivated land in the same vicinity and enjoying the same natural advantages. It would be unfair to impose a heavier tax on the farmer who has spent time and energy in the cultivation of his land, in the erection of buildings and fences and the plowing up of the soil, than is imposed on the speculative holder of an adjoining uncultivated area of good land. I would, in fact, go so far as to bonus the man who improves his property. I would impose a smaller tax upon him than upon the man who does nothing to increase the value of his holding.

"I would classify the land as 'improved,' 'unimproved' and 'untillable.' The owner of improved land and untillable land should pay the smaller acreage tax; the owner of land of good quality should pay the larger tax. In arriving at the assessment quality of the soil, and of the water supply, distance from railroads, and general transportation facilities, and all such factors should be taken into consideration. The man who is pioneering in the new country, far from the avenues of commerce, should not be called upon to bear any large fraction of the burden. The man who holds or farms land near to a railroad should bear a larger share."

Mr. Stauffer is of the opinion that the hail insurance tax might well be administered by the new rural municipalities which are to be created by legislation at the forthcoming session. The municipalities will be empowered to control general taxation. In accordance with the bill to be introduced by Hon. Duncan Marshall, the hail insurance tax might be levied and collected.

This is along the lines advocated by C. Hiebert, ex M. P. P., a few years ago.

Sale Withdrawn

I have passed through a similar experience to that of Abraham when he offered up Isaac. God tested me to see if I would make the sacrifice and when He found me willing and obedient He withdrew my hand and provided another way by the generosity of my friends and creditors. So that the sales advertised will not come off and I am thankful to God that it is not necessary. My faith and love will be strengthened by this experience. JAMES E. EISELL, Ponoka, Alta.

Hockey Meeting

A meeting of some of the hockey enthusiasts was held at the Alexandra hotel sample rooms last week when the following officers were elected for the season:

1st Hon. Pres., J. E. Stauff, R. M. P. P.; and Hon. Pres., H. B. Atkins; President, R. A. Macpherson; 1st Vice Pres., J. V. Herch; and Vice Pres., C. Hiebert; Manager, T. Stark; Sec. Treas., E. E. Topfifer; Finance Committee, Messrs. Curtis, Lang, Topfifer.

It is proposed to have three teams in town this season, bankers, clerks and single men, who will play for the Herch Trophy. There will be a senior team as well.

Negotiations will be opened with the Calgary association with a view to entering the Calgary league.

It is expected that more night games will be played as the installation of the electric light at the rink will give better lighting facilities.

What the Council is Doing

A special meeting of the Town Council was held on October 31st. Mayor Atkins, Couns., St. Clair, Shantz, Wrigglesworth and Oliver, Sec. Read and Solicitor Patterson were present.

Mr. Mackenzie was present and outlined a by-law regarding electric lighting of houses in the town.

Geo Metzger submitted a bill of $2 for damage done to his buggy through an electric light post hole.

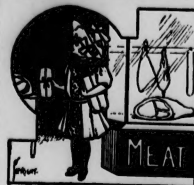

Couns. Shantz and St. Clair moved that Mr. C. A. Ryder be appointed electrical inspector for the Town of Didsbury pro tem. Carried.

Couns. Shantz and St. Clair, that by-law No. 85 respecting installation and use of electrical currents in buildings in the town of Didsbury be given a first reading. Carried.

The by-law was then given two more readings by unanimous consent of the Council and became law. The meeting then adjourned.

Audience Well Pleased

The Schubert Symphony Club and Ladies Quartette was greeted with a good house on Saturday night last and to say that those present enjoyed the programme immensely is not exaggerating. The Ladies Aid of the Presbyterian church are to be congratulated in bringing such a splendid organization here, and it is to be hoped that we will have the privilege of hearing them again. It was the best musical company that has ever visited Didsbury, which is saying a good deal as we have been favored with some very good companies. Every number presented was good and the performers were encored time and again. The entire programme appealed to the good taste of the large and appreciative audience and the absence of long and tiresome waits between numbers was also greatly appreciated.

Burr! Cold, Eh?

Didsbury, with the rest of the west, has experienced the cold spell this month. The temperature for some days ranged away down below the zero mark and both farmers and town-people stayed at home hugging the fire as much as possible. Fortunately, so far, there has been very little suffering from the want of coal, the dealers being able to get supplies in small quantities from different mines, but the price has been ranging anywhere from $7.50 to $15 per ton.

At last the long looked for Chinook is with us and Wednesday is a sample of the fine Alberta weather that we usually experience in the fall of the year.

Is It True

That Hon. W. H. Cushing, senior member for Calgary in the provincial legislature resigned two months ago and placed his resignation in the hands of Premier Stouffer who has not yet accepted it, is the statement being made in political circles today, and coupled with it is the rumor that Mr. Cushing will not take his seat in the house when legislature meets this month. Although Mr. Cushing could not be located Monday morning, several members of the house who are in the city today stated that they had heard the rumor and apparently placed credence in it.—News Telegram.
